PRISON MINISTRIES FACTSHEET

Prison Fellowship International

Prison Fellowship is the largest Christian nonprofit organisation that works with prisoners. PFI has programs in prisons around the world that are restoring prisoners' lives, helping their families and successfully integrating them back into the community for good. This important work is accomplished in more than 100 countries through National Ministries that have over 46,000 local volunteers.

Prison Fellowship has four main programs.

The Prisoner's Journey

Prisoners meet weekly in small groups to learn about who Jesus is, what He calls them to do and what He wants for them.

Sycamore Tree Project

Prisoners and victims meet in small groups to reflect on the harm and ripple effects of crime.

The Listener's Way

Small groups gather for weekly to listen to chapters of the Bible in their heart language and engage in discussion.

Promise Path

Supports children of prisoners and caregivers by providing education assistance, community mentoring and spiritual resources. Children receive improved access to education through assistance with school supplies, fees and uniforms.

Kairos Prison Ministry International is one of the other organisations working with prisoners. It is an international organization focused on bringing Christ's love and forgiveness to prisoners and their families, visitation and spiritual renewal. Their main program, 'Kairos Inside', seeks to develop a Christian community inside prisons. This includes bringing positive and negative leaders together for talks, discussion and meditation.

They also run weekend experiences with those who have come out of prison, followed by a long-term mentoring process that encourages young men and women to move towards making better life choices.
